

Maria Theresa (1717-1780): Tercentenary workshop on the Habsburg empress and her time

26 February 2018, The Queen's College, Oxford

Convened by Tobias Heinrich (Kent) and Avi Lifschitz (Oxford)

- 12:45 Welcome and introduction
- 13:00 Session I: Memorial Room, The Queen's College
- Chair: Ritchie Robertson (The Queen's College, Oxford)
- Werner Telesko (Austrian Academy of Sciences)
Maria Theresa: the making of a myth. Old questions and new insights
- Catriona Seth (All Souls College, Oxford)
A well-tempered correspondence?
The letters of Marie Antoinette and Maria Theresa
- 15:00 Session II: Memorial Room, The Queen's College
- Chair: Peter Wilson (All Soul's College, Oxford)
- William O'Reilly (Trinity Hall, Cambridge)
'All the king's men': Maria Theresa and the Holy Crown of St Stephan
- Thomas Wallnig (University of Vienna)
After 2017: is new research on Maria Theresa possible?
- 17:00 Keynote Lecture: Shulman Auditorium, The Queen's College
- Barbara Stollberg-Rilinger (University of Münster)
Maria Theresa and the Catholic Enlightenment
- 18:30 Drinks reception

Attendance is free, but advance registration is required via the following link:

<https://modernlanguages.sas.ac.uk/events/event/15423>

The workshop is supported by the Austrian Cultural Forum in London, the Ingeborg Bachmann Centre for Austrian Literature and Culture at the Institute of Modern Languages Research, University of London, the Oxford Centre for European History, the Oxford Centre for Life-Writing, and the Voltaire Foundation.